UPDATE FROM THE LOS ANGELES HOMELESS SERVICES AUTHORITY (LAHSA)

Over the past year there have been many changes within the homeless service delivery network. For example, homeless shelters have been repurposed as bridge housing and are now open 24 hours a day, seven days a week and a sobering center has been opened in Skid Row. LAHSA is also examining existing facilities within Skid Row and determining their best use. The former drop-in center on San Julian Street is now being considered as another community diversion site. Join us to hear about LAHSA's plans for 2017 and provide your input.

Special Guest: Peter Lynn, Executive Director, LAHSA

OFFICE OF MAYOR GARCETTI & HOMELESS STRATEGY

In November 2017, voters approved Measure HHH which is a $1.2 billion bond. The funds will be used to build permanent supportive housing for homeless individuals as well as other homeless facilities, like storage centers for their belongings. The City also recently adopted revisions to the regulations that govern personal belongings on sidewalks and hired additional staff to implement the new regulations. Learn more from the Mayor's office about how these efforts are going and share your ideas to address the homeless crisis.

Special Guest: Alisa Orduna, Homelessness Policy Coordinator, Office of Mayor Garcetti
